THE TORO COMPANY AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)
MAY 2, 1997

BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the instructions to Form 10-Q and do not include all the information and notes required by generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements. Unless the context indicates otherwise, the terms "company" and "Toro" refer to The Toro Company and its subsidiaries. In the opinion of management, the unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements include all adjustments, consisting primarily of recurring accruals, considered necessary for a fair presentation of the financial position and the results of operations. Since the company's business is seasonal operating results for the six months ended May 2, 1997 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ended October 31, 1997.

For further information, refer to the consolidated financial statements and notes included in the company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended October 31, 1996. The policies described in that report are used for preparing quarterly reports.

INVENTORIES

The majority of inventories are valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value with cost determined by the last-in, first-out (LIFO) method. Had the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method of cost determination been used, inventories would have been $25,642,000 and $24,841,000 higher than reported at May 2, 1997, and May 3, 1996, respectively. Under the FIFO method, work-in-process inventories were $79,736,000 and $78,977,000 and finished goods inventories were $104,920,000 and $104,705,000 at May 2, 1997, and May 3, 1996, respectively.

BUSINESS ACQUISITIONS

Effective December 1, 1996, The Toro Company acquired the James Hardie Irrigation Group ("Hardie") from James Hardie Industries Limited under an agreement dated September 18, 1996. The initial purchase price pursuant to the agreement was estimated to be $131,500,000. The purchase price was subsequently adjusted to $119,125,000 based on estimated, unaudited aggregate shareholders' equity of Hardie on December 1, 1996, subject to further adjustment based on final audit results.

Based on the financial statements of Hardie as of the acquisition date, shareholders' equity at the acquisition date was approximately $10,545,000 less than the estimated equity used as the closing date purchase price, and this $10,545,000 is to be returned from James Hardie Industries Limited to Toro. In addition, under the procedures established in the purchase agreement, Toro has delivered a letter of objections to James Hardie Industries Limited related to the valuation of assets, accounting methods applied, estimates used and other items. The resolution of these objections may result in an additional reduction of the purchase price.

The acquisition is accounted for using the purchase accounting method and, accordingly, the adjusted purchase price of $108,580,000 has initially been allocated based on the estimated fair values of assets acquired and liabilities assumed on the date of acquisition. The excess of the purchase price over the estimated fair value of net tangible assets acquired has been recorded as goodwill and is being amortized on a straight-line basis over 20 years. Any additional reductions in the purchase price as a result of resolution of the objections discussed in the preceding paragraph will result in a reduction of goodwill and/or other net assets. The related effect of these adjustments on the Consolidated Statement of Earnings of The Toro Company is not expected to be material.

The following unaudited pro forma information presents a summary of consolidated results of operations of the company and Hardie as if the acquisition had occurred at the beginning of fiscal 1996, with pro forma adjustments to give effect to amortization of goodwill, interest expense on acquisition debt and certain other adjustments, together with the related income tax effects.

SUBSEQUENT EVENT

On June 4, 1997, the company announced that it had signed a non-binding letter of intent to acquire Exmark Manufacturing Company, Inc., a leading manufacturer of equipment for the professional landscape contractor industry. Exmark is headquartered in Beatrice, Nebraska, and produces mid-sized walk-behind mowers and zero-turning-radius riding mowers for professional contractors. Exmark employs approximately 190 people in a 164,000 square foot facility and had sales of $38.4 million for the fiscal year ended August 31, 1996. Consummation of the acquisition is subject to preparation and execution of a definitive agreement, approval by Exmark's shareholders and regulatory approvals. Management believes that the consideration to be paid by the company will not be material to the company.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

FORWARD-LOOKING INFORMATION

SAFE HARBOR STATEMENT UNDER THE PRIVATE SECURITIES LITIGATION REFORM ACT OF 1995: This report contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. In addition, forward-looking statements may be made orally in the future by or on behalf of the company.

Forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties, including, but not limited to, changes in business conditions and the economy in general in both foreign and domestic markets; weather conditions affecting demand; seasonal factors affecting the company's industry; lack of growth in the company's markets; litigation; financial market changes including interest rates and foreign exchange rates; trend factors including housing starts, new golf course starts and market demographics; government actions including budget levels, regulation, and legislation, primarily legislation relating to the environment, commerce and infrastructure, and health and safety; labor relations; availability of materials; actions of competitors; ability to integrate acquisitions; and the company's ability to profitably develop, manufacture and sell both new and existing products. Actual results could differ materially from those projected in the forward-looking statements as a result of these risk factors, and should not be relied upon as a prediction of actual future results. Further, Toro undertakes no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances after the date on which such statement is made, or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Second quarter net earnings rose 13.1% to $19.0 million from the net earnings of $16.8 million for the same period in the previous year. Earnings per share for the second quarter improved 15.0% to $1.53 from $1.33 in the previous period. Revenues increased from $288.6 million in the second quarter of 1996 to $352.2 million in the second quarter of 1997, as a result of factors discussed in the following paragraphs. The increase in sales was due in part to the acquisition of Hardie.

For the six months ended May 2, 1997 net sales increased from the same period in 1996 by $61.0 million or 12.2%. Net earnings for the six months ended May 2, 1997 were $21.5 million as compared to $25.3 million for the same period last year.

In both fiscal 1996 and 1997 the spring mowing season was cold and late in many key markets. In fiscal 1997 these unpredictable weather patterns heightened a conservative buying attitude among dealers and distributors. The company continues to focus on more efficient asset management, and integration of the Hardie acquisition.

CONSUMER PRODUCT SALES

Worldwide net sales of consumer products for the three months ended May 2, 1997 of $137.9 million were flat as compared to the prior year and down $18.9 million for the six months ended May 2, 1997. Again, as in fiscal 1996, this quarter had a slow start to the lawn and garden retail season because of unseasonably cool weather. Although retail demand was stronger this period than a year ago, dealers and distributors remained conservative and kept their inventories at a minimum. A snow storm also caused a ten day plant shutdown that resulted in lower production and sales of riding equipment during the first six months. These decreases in sales were offset slightly by sales of newly introduced electric and battery-operated walk-behind mowers.

International consumer net sales for the three months ended May 2, 1997 increased from $20.7 million to $21.5 million and from $34.3 million to $36.8 million for the six months ended May 2, 1997 as a result of continued strong demand in Canada and the introduction of products in France's largest mass merchant. The new electric walk-behind mower has been well received in the international market.

COMMERCIAL PRODUCT SALES

Worldwide commercial product net sales for the three months ended May 2, 1997 were $122.0 million compared to $108.5 million in the same period in the prior year. Net sales for the six months ended May 2, 1997 were $200.0 million compared to $186.9 million in the same period in the prior year. Sales of equipment to golf courses did well, reflecting the continued growth of the golf market, and several new product introductions in the second quarter also reinforced sales.

International commercial net sales increased to $39.5 million for the three months ended May 2, 1997 from $36.5 million in the prior year. Net sales increased to $62.2 million for the six months ended May 2, 1997 from $55.9 million in the prior year. Equipment sales to the golf market were up as new courses were added in the Philippines, Korea and Egypt. Golf equipment sales also did well in Europe despite generally weak economic conditions.

IRRIGATION PRODUCT SALES

Worldwide irrigation product net sales rose 117.9% from $42.3 million in the same three month period last year to $92.3 million in the current year. Net sales for the six months ended May 2, 1997 were $139.6 compared to $72.9 in the same period in the prior year. This increase is almost entirely attributable to the acquisition of Hardie.

International irrigation net sales, excluding Hardie sales, increased by 17.7% for the second quarter and 1.5% for the first six months of fiscal 1997, as compared to the corresponding period in the prior year.

GROSS PROFIT

Gross profit was $125.1 million and $200.3 million for the three and six months ended May 2, 1997, respectively, an increase of $21.3 million and $20.2 million from the three and six months ended May 3, 1996, respectively. As a percent of sales, gross profit for the three month period ended May 2, 1997 was 35.5% compared with 36.0% for the three month period ended May 3, 1996 and 35.7% for the six months ended May 2, 1997 versus 36.0% for the six month period ended May 3, 1996. The lower gross margin was primarily due to lower gross margins contributed by Hardie product sales. Manufacturing variances were relatively flat as compared to last year.

Total	$ 89.2	25.3%	$ 73.5	25.5%

Selling, general and administrative expense (SG&A) for the three months ended May 2, 1997 increased $15.7 million from the prior year, and as a percent of sales decreased slightly to 25.3% from 25.5% for the same period in fiscal 1996. Hardie added $10.0 million in SG&A expense during the second quarter of fiscal 1997. SG&A expense for the six months ended May 2, 1997 increased $20.3 million from the prior year, including Hardie's SG&A expense of $16.1 million, and as a percent of sales increased to 28.1% from 27.5% for the same period in fiscal 1996. Administrative expenses, net of Hardie, increased $2.0 million for the quarter and $2.2 million for the six months ended May 2, 1997 due mainly to increased costs for information systems and overall increases in administrative expenses. Sales and marketing expenses, net of Hardie, increased by $4.9 million for the quarter and $5.1 million for the six months ended May 2, 1997 due to increased promotional costs of new products for the landscape contractor group. The percent of sales change in sales and marketing expense was the result of timing of marketing program expenses. Warranty expense, net of Hardie, decreased $1.9 million for the quarter and $3.7 million for the six months ended May 2, 1997 due primarily to a reserve established in the prior period for required rework on a lawnmower product. Warranty expense as a percent of sales also decreased from the prior year as a result of a change in the mix of products sold and a warranty related refund received from a vendor. Distributor/dealer financing, research and development, and warehousing expenses, net of Hardie, were flat as compared to the same period in fiscal 1996.

FINANCIAL POSITION AS OF MAY 2, 1997

MAY 2, 1997 COMPARED TO MAY 3, 1996

Total assets at May 2, 1997 were $800.0 million, up $174.9 million from May 3, 1996. Of this increase, Hardie accounted for $168.3 million. Cash, net of Hardie of $4.4 million, decreased from the prior period as the result of improved asset management policies. Accounts receivable, net, increased by $69.4 million, with $60.7 million in net receivables attributable to Hardie. The remaining increase in receivables is the result of higher sales in both the commercial and international divisions. Inventory balances, net of Hardie inventories of approximately $24.9 million, declined by $24.8 million due to asset management strategies which match production more closely with retail demand and result in lower overall inventory levels. Net property, plant and equipment, increased by approximately $46.4 million, with $30.4 million of this increase related to Hardie and the remaining increase related to the corporate headquarters expansion and new tooling projects. Other assets increased by $55.4 million with Hardie accounting for $47.2 million. The remainder of the increase was the result of the purchase of patents, additional acquisition costs for Hardie and the purchase of property for possible future corporate expansion.

Total current liabilities of $495.7 million at May 2, 1997 increased $154.3 million compared with current liabilities at May 3, 1996. The majority of this increase was short-term borrowing, which increased by $129.4 million over the prior year due primarily to the financing of both the purchase price and working capital needs of Hardie. The increase in short-term borrowing was offset by a decrease in trade payables, net of Hardie, primarily as a result of the timing of vendor payments. Other accrued liabilities increased by $17.4 million, primarily as a result of expenses related to the Hardie acquisition, and Hardie accrued liabilities acquired. The current portion of long-term debt was also reduced due to the repayment of Toro Credit Company ("TCC") debt. TCC is now being financed by the parent company on a consolidated basis. Other long-term liabilities also increased over the prior period, primarily as a result of accrued interest related to the interest rate swap agreement entered into during second quarter of fiscal 1996.

MAY 2, 1997 COMPARED TO OCTOBER 31, 1996

Total assets at May 2, 1997 were $800.0 million, up $303.1 million from October 31, 1996. As indicated previously, Hardie accounted for approximately $168.3 million of this increase. Accounts receivable, net of Hardie, increased from October 31, 1996 primarily due to increased sales volumes. Inventory, net of Hardie, increased by $3.8 million primarily as a result of the normal buildup of consumer lawn and garden products manufactured in the first six months of the year. Net property, plant and equipment increased from $73.8 million to $115.2 million due to the addition of Hardie net property, plant and equipment of $30.4 million, the expansion of the corporate headquarters and routine capital expenditures. Other assets increased as a result of the excess of the purchase price of Hardie over the fair value of the net assets acquired of approximately $26.9 million plus additional capitalized acquisition costs of approximately $16.7 million and the acquisition of Hardie's other assets.

Total current liabilities of $495.7 million at May 2, 1997 increased $287.8 million compared with current liabilities at October 31, 1996. The majority of this increase was the result of additional short-term borrowings of $237.0 million a portion of which was used to finance the purchase price and working capital needs of Hardie. The remaining increase in short-term borrowing reflects the company's strategy of utilizing short-term borrowing to fund the company's seasonal working capital needs. Other accrued liabilities increased as a result of expenses related to the acquisition of Hardie and accruals for various seasonal sales and marketing programs which are at their peak during the spring selling season. There were no significant changes in long-term debt and other long-term liabilities from October 31, 1996 to May 31, 1997.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The primary use of cash during the first six months of fiscal 1997 was $117.6 million used for the acquisition of Hardie. The purchase price has been initially funded with temporary bank debt. The company has filed a shelf registration which will facilitate the issuance of long-term debt to replace this temporary bank debt, and intends to refinance this temporary debt with long-term financing during the current fiscal year. The company believes that financing is also available through other sources.

Cash used in operating activities for the first six months of fiscal 1997 was primarily for the seasonal increase in accounts receivable. The company's working capital needs are funded with $190.0 million of unsecured bank credit lines. An agreement for an additional $150.0 million unsecured bank credit line expiring in December 1997 was executed in conjunction with the acquisition of Hardie. The company also has banker's acceptance financing agreements under which an additional $40.0 million is available. The company's business is seasonal, with peak borrowing under the working capital lines described above generally occurring between February and May each year.

Management believes that the combination of funds available through its existing financing arrangements, coupled with forecasted cash flows, will provide the capital resources for its anticipated needs.

INFLATION

The company is subject to the effects of changing prices. The company has, however, generally been able to pass along inflationary increases in its costs by increasing the prices of its products.
